

SAVE

SHARE

AA
TEXT

452

U.S., Mexico Reach Deal to Avoid Tari

President Trump says Mexico has agreed to take 'strong measures' to s

By Rebecca Ballhaus, Josh Zumbrun and Robbie Whelan

Updated June 8, 2019 9:45 a.m. ET

President Trump on Friday night dropped his threat of tariffs on billions of dollars of Mexican imports after negotiators reached a deal on measures to stem the flow of migrants pouring into the U.S. from Mexico, averting a potentially devastating trade fight for both countries.

Mr. Trump said the tariffs, which had been set to go into effect Monday, were "indefinitely suspended," while Mexican President

2
N