

Falling European stocks are on the brink of their worst week since 2008 as numbers mount, factories close and supply chains break. The impact of coronavirus Covid-19 is spreading through Europe as 1,000 people are in quarantine in German town of Heinsberg

Alice Woodhouse, Adam Samson, George Russell, Sarah Provan, Myles McCormick, Naomi Rovnick, Mamta Badkar, Matthew Rocco, Peter Wells 26 MINUTES AGO

Mamta Badkar 45 MINUTES AGO

Bullard: US rate cuts a possibility if coronavirus intensifies into a pandemic

Worries about the economic fallout from the disease has prompted warning from a number of blue chip companies and Goldman Sachs has predicted zero earnings growth for US companies this year.

Matthew Rocco 57 MINUTES AGO

BREAKING NEWS

Wall Street extends sell-off

US stocks resumed their sell-off, falling deeper into correction territory, as concerns over the coronavirus outbreak continued to put global equities under pressure.

Baselworld trade show cancelled after Switzerland bans large gatherings

Sam Jones reports from Flims

Baselworld, the most important commercial event of the year for Swiss watchmaking industry, has been cancelled following a

...

Adam Samson 11 HOURS AGO

Hyundai factory suspends production after worker diagnosed with virus

Edward White and Song Jung-a report from Seoul

...

Earlier this month Hyundai was forced to halt output across all its car factories in South Korea after running out of engine wire-harness components from China. At the time, China was dealing with its country-wide factory shutdowns because of the virus.